IN REPLY REFER TO:

The EROS Data Center (EDC) is pleased to fill your order, and hopes that these photographic products will suit your particular needs.

In processing your order, we have detected certain types of discrepancies and wish to make you aware of them. We have investigated the source of the problem(s) and have listed the discrepancies below.

* Frames 35-44

The density variations in your image are inherent in the master reproducible provided to the EDC.

+ Please take note the color differences within the roll. Our master roll was flown on two different days, then spliced together. We tried to match the color the best possible. We hope they meet your needs.

If you have any problems or questions pertaining to your order, please contact the Customer Relations Unit, and furnish your order number and complete address.
